computers and medicine

the publication that tells you how physicians have put computers to work -- In practical, valuable ways

This bi-monthly publication reports on ways computer potential has been harnessed and used clinically and administratively in private practice, clinics, hospitals, and medical societies.

It describes medical-computer systems in use now, those still in the developmental and experimental stages, and tells you whom to contact for more details.

Let COMPUTERS AND MEDICINE start bringing you ideas. Order a subscription now! Send a check or money order ($5 in U.S. and Possessions; $7 All Other Countries) to Subscriber Services, AMA, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610.
